DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of Group I, in the reply filed on 03/04/2008 is acknowledged.

Claim 19-23 withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 03/04/2008.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 1 and dependent claims are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is unclear what compounds are included are excluded from the claimed formula (I). Since there are only 6 variables, H, methyl, ethyl, propyl, propenyl, and phenyl, it is suggested that applicant draw all the possible structures that are excluded and or included.

Claim 3-5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the elements. See MPEP § 2172.01. The claims are drawn to a process of making a compound (II) starting from propanal using first a base and then an acid. It is inconceivable that these three reagents can make compound (II) unless, multiple enzymes and/or organometallic reagents are involved. An examination of the specification reveals that such protocols are not contemplated.

Claim 6-7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the elements. See MPEP § 2172.01. The claims are drawn to a process of making a compound (II) starting from 2-methyl-2-pentenal, using first a base and then an acid. It is inconceivable that these three reagents can make compound (II) unless, multiple enzymes and/or organometallic reagents are involved. An examination of the specification reveals that such protocols are not contemplated.

The specification breathes life and breadth into claims but the claims are not limited by the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tsunoi et al. Journal of the American Chemical Society (1998), 120(34), 8692-8701.

Tsunoi et al, teach corresponding to the compound of formula (I).

Claim 1 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ihara et al. Journal of Organic Chemistry

Art Unit: 1625

(1996), 61(2), 677-84.

Ihara et al. teach,

corresponding to the compound of formula (I).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 8-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rebrovic et al. (US 5231192) in view of Bourdineaud et al. (WO 94/07887) and (Kaiser (EP 0513627 A1).

Rebrovic et al. teach valerolactones useful in perfume compositions. See column 1, lines 22-27; column 7 structure (X), column 8, lines 31-33, wherein process of preparation use of valerolactones as aroma chemicals are taught. The alpha-alkyl of the prior art corresponds to the R1 of the instant formulae.

Bourdineaud et al. teach valerolactone as perfumes, corresponding to compounds of the instant formulae wherein R1 and R2 are hydrogens. Kaiser et al. also teach valerolactones as perfumes, corresponding to compounds of the instant formulae wherein R1 and R2 are hydrogens with additional alkyl substitution on the oxygen bearing carbon.

Compounds of the instant case and that of Rebrovic et al. are related as hydrogen vs. alkyl homologs/analogues. Thus the difference between the prior art and the claims at issue is that some specific valerolactones of the instant claims are not taught by Rebrovic et al.

However one skilled in the art would be motivated to make analogs of Rebrovic et al. for use in perfume compositions with reasonable expectation of success because Bourdineaud et al and Kaiser teach that alkyl groups and hydrogens could be used interchangeably to make valerolactones that are useful in perfume compositions. Similar compounds are expected to show similar properties. The instantly claimed compounds would have been suggested and thus obvious to one skilled in the art.

No claim is allowed.
